OPEN FIGHT ON KU KLUX KLAN IN KANSAS

KANSAS CITY, October 30.—(By the United Press)—The Ku Klux Klan stands with its back to the wall in Kansas today. The machinery of the state government has started into action against the mysterious, untroubled organization. Klan counsels throughout the state were required to have been called into session in orders issued today to formulate plans in a fight for existence. Governor Henry J. Allen, who on the eve of an election declared war on the Klan in western Kansas to-day carrying his appeal to the people to rid the state of the white caps. At Topeka, the capital, Attorney General Hopkins was in private conference with state executives preparing to drafting injunctions drastically curbing operations of the Klan.

It was reported from a reliable source that these injunctions would prevent further enlistments of Klansmen until action against the organization as a whole could be brought to court. Action expected from Kansas against every official of the Klan is already under way. Governor Allen himself admitted before leaving for the west. Joint action by officials of three states—Kansas, Texas and Oklahoma—or at least the demand opposed to the Klan was predicted today at Topeka. While Allen was making his initial speech against the Klan at Coffeyville, four thousand Klansmen were crowded every inch of space in convention hall here to hear anti-Catholic speakers. These included Gilbert O. Nathan of Washington, editor of "The Postman," and William Parker, of Alpena, Mo., publisher of "The New Yorker." The Tom Shannon—Joe Henderson political machine, which has headed Democratic politics in Kansas, was scathingly denounced by the speakers. No reference was made to the Allen campaign, although it was known in advance that Allen was opening a strenuous campaign on the Klan.

Trying To Prove Murder

HAYRE, MONT., October 30.—(By the Associated Press)—While Mrs. Christler today was on an east bound train, accompanying the body of her slain husband, Rev. Leonard J. Christler, rector of St. Marks Episcopal Church, and known as the "bishop of all outdoors" to Watertown, N. Y., Mrs. Joseph Pyle, mother of Mrs. Margaret Carleton, whose body was found beside that of Christler, is attempting to prove that her daughter did not commit murder and suicide.

A coroner's jury brought in a verdict yesterday stating that Mrs. Carleton killed Rev. Christler and then shot herself. The tragedy occurred early Friday morning.

"I do not believe Margaret did it," said Mrs. Pyle shortly after her arrival in Hayre. "I shall not be satisfied until I find who owned the gun."

Her reference was to a .38 calibre revolver in the hand of Mrs. Carleton when the bodies were found.

A small .22 calibre revolver she customarily carried, was found in Mrs. Carleton's hand bag.

Mrs. Pyle is now engaged in piecing together bits of a torn letter found in a waste basket in her daughter's room and which she declares is in Christler's handwriting. That Mrs. Carleton had an infatuation for the minister, is admitted by Mrs. Pyle.

PHILADELPHIA, October 30.—(By the Associated Press)—Authorities today were still seeking a clue to the sender of the poisoned cake which killed W. W. Sterrett, of Devon, an accountant, and resulted in an illness which may cost the life of Mrs. Sterrett. Dr. Herbert F. Rosbeck, coroner's physician, of Montgomery county, who conducted a post-mortem examination of Sterrett, declared his belief that two poisons, cleverly mixed by an expert, were placed in the loing of the cake sent to the Sterretts.

Shields, American relief worker at Simbirsk, according to a telegram received here from Colonel Wm. X. Haskell, head of the field forces of the American relief administration. Detailed information concerning the arrests was not received here.

Investigating authorities are still dragging the Volga in the belief that they will find the body in the river, since Shields' hat was found on the bank above Simbirsk several days ago.

"Baby Mine"

LYRIC Starting Today

Atmospherically, "The Face in the Fog" is one of the most successful mystery dramas that has ever been shown. It is intensely interesting. The photography, the protracted suspense and technical skill of the director combine in securing an effect of obscurity that is varied with just enough flashes of enlightenment.

Miss Elizabeth Altman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Altman, 1422 Lincoln avenue, entertained charmingly a group of intimate friends with a masquerade affair Saturday evening. Black cats, witches and goblins peeped from shadows of corn arranged throughout the Altman home and the lighting was subdued by orange and black shades, making the atmosphere ghostly and weird. Following an interesting evening spent with dancing and games, refreshments were served by the hostess' mother.

Miss Altman's guests included: Misses Mary McGuire, Elizabeth Ogier, Marjorie Hartage, Virginia Taylor, Imogene Stalder, Jane Pressler, Marjorie Molster, Joan Cissna, Helen Bradshaw, Esther Pennington, Mary Frances Jordan, Eliza Jane Wright.

Autumn leaves and corn-fodder were used in decorating the spacious veranda, and the interior of the home presented an attractive appearance with its red shaded lights and decorations of orange and black crepe paper. Piano numbers were given by John Solke and Mrs. Earl Rheinfrank; Mr. and Mrs. Ogle Burcham rendered a delightful vocal duet, and Miss Wykle Gwinn of Huntington sang a pleasing solo. Two clever readings were given by Doris Rheinfrank and Dorothy Cline. The election is close at hand. On account of being steadily employed in a position where I could not get a leave of absence, I have been somewhat handicapped and have been unable to see every voter personally, and I do not want my friends to think I have been inactive in my candidacy.

The citizens of this County know that the office of Sheriff is a very important position.

A Sheriff should be a man of good sound judgment, courteous in all his dealings and one that will unflinchingly do his sworn duty, both in criminal and civil matters.

Having had more than two years' experience as Deputy Sheriff under the present Sheriff, Mr. E. E. Riskey, I believe I can safely say to the citizens of this county, and especially to those who know me, that I am capable of filling this important-office in all its requirements.

The criminal work is important. The same is true of civil work, which is heavy in Scioto County.

All subpoenas, summons and writs of every nature must be served promptly, and properly and promptly returned to the Court.

I solicit the support of every voter and assure you that if elected Sheriff of Scioto County, I will do my best to uphold the trust and confidence placed in me.

My campaign is being conducted in a gentlemanly manner, and is going to be continued so.

I want those who are interested in my behalf, regardless of political affiliations to continue to be active and remember that confidence is half the battle, but confidence doesn't go in the ballot box, it's votes that count.

Very respectfully,
HARRY M. DUNHAM

Rotarians Hear Fine Talks

A most interesting session of the Rotary Club was held Monday at the Elk parlors. The music was unusually inspiring under the able leadership of Senator W. D. Tremper. As Chairman of the meeting, Prof. H. H. Peebles had arranged a splendid program. Talks were made on Boy life and home influences by Rector E. A. Powell and Harry W. Miller. Then William Plummer, a Sophomore in the High School, talked about present day opportunities for boys. William was "all there" in his views, and he expressed the opinion that for the boy who had the stuff in him, the industry and the pep, there was a better chance now than ever before in the history of the world to get along. From whatever standpoint viewed.

Captain Thomas Brock, of the High School, the last speaker, discussed High School athletics and told how selections were made for the team, each boy having a chance for all the various teams that were to represent the school. It all depended on the boy, on his physical moral condition, and on his ability along studious lines. If a boy did not study he had no chance in athletics. Captain Brock made a fine talk and like Plummer was warmly applauded as he concluded.

Mrs. Huber was thrown about thirty feet from the machine and was unconscious when picked up. An ambulance from Ashville was called and she was taken to Grant hospital, Columbus, where she remained in an unconscious condition until about nine o'clock Sunday morning. An X-ray was taken to determine the extent of her injuries.

Mr. and Mrs. George Koerner of Fourth street were already in Columbus visiting at the home of his brother Albert Koerner on Cleveland avenue. A physician at Ashville called the Koerner home to notify them of the accident just as Mr. Joseph Koerner walked into the house after leaving Mrs. Huber at the hospital. Lee Huber went to Columbus yesterday and was at his wife's bedside.

George Koerner later visited the scene of the wreck. Joseph Koerner's machine was badly damaged, Mr. and Mrs. Koerner, Richard Huber and Miss Hummel are still in Columbus at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Koerner.

Kidding Match Ends In Shooting Affray

WELLS, Oct. 30.—Late yesterday a serious shooting occurred at Wells as a result of a "kidding" match between two former friends, John Riley, 36, who works in a store, and Percy Pierce, 40, who became involved in a difficulty. It began as a joke. Pierce said he had lost his knife and Riley jokingly added that "he found it out near the chicken coop," it is said, "and that it did not look very good either." Pierce took offense, it is claimed, and a fight resulted, Riley getting the best of the fracas. Then Pierce got some rocks and the engagement was renewed. Finally Pierce secured a shot gun and fired through a store window when Riley was passing striking him in the shoulder and almost tearing that member away. Riley was hurried to a Gallipolis hospital. No arrests had been made at noon today.

Bigelow Revival Closes; Is Big Success

Dr. George Hugh Birney closed the series of Evangelistic services at Bigelow church with three sermons, yesterday. These were effective and swift to accomplish their desired aim. An especially effective call was made to the minds of the hearers in the morning when the four steps to the peace of God were described: Confession of Sin, Repentance, Confession and Faith were the steps; with a faith—a prostration of self-hood, full length, with face in the dust, arms outstretched in an abandonment of total surrender to the will of God. These would bring the perfect peace in God.

The evening service was wonderful. Fully tender, so that quietly men and women yielded to the Comforter. The Storms of Temptation, the unrest and anxiety that gnaws the soul, the burdens that crush, all were cast upon the Savior.

Briefly summarizing the messages of Dr. Birney, we would say that they were intense, fervent, tender and heart-healing presentations of a gloriously winsome and sane gospel. Back of the messages there always was disclosed a great-hearted man whom we learned to love. His manhood made a strong appeal to the church. And back of the man, we clearly saw the Master of us all. Christ's presence was not dimmed by conditions, egotisms or shallow displays. What was said by God of another prophet might be said of Dr. Birney: "Thou art my servant through whom I would break forth into glory."

God has been made visible to us, the church has not suffered and will not suffer from any reaction but has been built spiritually. A grateful pastor and people wish for Dr. Birney the dearest, truest success in his Evangelistic Ministry.

The Official Board voices the thought of the whole church in their resolutions of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Chandler, of Timonahs avenue, for their generous hospitality through the entire period in the entertainment of Dr. Birney.

EARLYMajority Opinion Of Rail Labor Board Attacks
Living Wage Theory; Says It Would Wreck Roads

CHICAGO, OCT. 30.—(By The Associated Press) — Attacking the theory of "The Living Wage" as a basis for determining wages of railroad workers, the public and railroad groups of the railway labor board in an opinion made public last night declared such a course "if carried to its legitimate conclusion, would wreck every railroad in the United States and if extended to other industries, would carry them into communitarian ruin."

The opinion in the form of a rejoinder to a dissenting opinion filed by A. O. Wharton, labor member in the recent decision increasing the wage of maintenance of way employees declared that if employees were granted a 72 to 75 cents minimum wage for common labor with corresponding differentials for other classes, an increase of 125.7 per cent in the nation's railroad wage bill would be necessary. This, the opinion said, would add $3,112,552,387 to the annual payroll, bringing it to $3,559,445,993, which would mean, it added, an annual deficit to the carriers of $2,224,635,518.

Even if the 48 cent maximum wage requested by maintenance of way men were granted, and cooperation differentials were made for other classes of employees, the opinion said, an increase of 50.45 per cent in wages would be necessary, adding $1,214,800,094 to the annual wage bill of the roads, bringing it up to $3,725,884,540, thus forcing the carriers to face an annual deficit of $378,078,125.

Mellifluous Phraseology

The phrase "living wage" was termed in the opinion as a bit of mellifluous phraseology, well calculated to deceive the unthinking. "If the contentions were that the board should establish a living wage, the majority would readily accede to the proposition," the opinion said, "and as a matter of fact the board in this instance as in all others, has granted a living wage. But the abstract, elusive thing called 'the living wage' confessedly based upon a ten-to-shift and a guess, cannot receive the sanction of this board, because it would be utterly impracticable and would not be 'just and reasonable' as the law demands."

Mr. Wharton's dissenting opinion and the supporting opinion in reply are attached to the formal decision increasing the pay of maintenance of way employees two cents an hour, and establishing a minimum ranging from twenty-five to thirty-seven cents. The United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way employees, railway shop laborers, held a strike order affecting four thousand men in abeyance last July after board had reached wages pending a request for an increase, based on the contention that the costs of living had advanced and wages in other industries had been raised.

When the case came up, maintenance of way officials asked the board to subscribe to the principle of a living wage based on a budget of what was required for an average family of five persons to live in health and reasonable comfort. A majority of the board refused to subscribe to the principle, asserting that the transportation act called for establishing a "just and reasonable" wage and that a just and reasonable wage was, in effect, a living wage.

Twenty Million Increase

The maintenance of way organization asked the board to establish minimum rates of pay of 48 cents an hour to replace rates then in effect ranging from twenty-three to thirty-five cents. After a deadlock of several days the board made public its decision formally handed down yesterday increasing rates of pay two cents an hour and adding about $20,000,000 to the railroad payroll.

The decision asserted that the increase was due mostly to the fact that higher rates of wages were being paid for the same classes of work in other industries and that there had been no appreciable increase in the cost of living.

Mr. Wharton in his dissenting opinion maintained that the "fundamental error" of the decision rested on failure to inquire into "the adequacy of the rates of pay established for section men and unskilled laborers."

He asserted that rates of pay in other industries of similar character

What They Cost

What does it cost to feed a child?
Sometimes little, sometimes much. That depends on the food they get.

The premier food for a child is oats, you know. Mothers for ages have known that.

And the finest oats that grow—just the cream of fine oats—cost less than a cent a dish.

Food value is measured by calories.

In Mother's Oats, 1,000 calories cost 5 cents.

Those 1,000 calories, in the average meat dish, cost nine or ten times that.

Those are reasons for serving Mother's Oats.

They are called Mother's Oats because children love the flavor.

Insist on this quality—make the oat dish delightful—if you believe in oats.

should be made a secondary consideration and that the prime factor to be considered was whether the rates fixed were just and reasonable which he said meant an adequate living wage under the transportation act.

He maintained that the law of supply and demand, which operated in private industries, to fix the price of labor should not be taken as a basis by the Labor board. The board, he contended, should find what should be a just and reasonable wage by computing a family budget containing the expenses of the average family.

Calls Principle Practical

He maintained that the living wage principle was practical, asserting that added labor costs would be absorbed in large part by increased efficiency of the men and by managerial ability.

Pointing out that Mr. Wharton would ignore the provision of the transportation act directing the labor board to consider wages paid in other industries of similar nature in fixing wages, the supporting opinion declared that "those responsible for the decision considered this as well as other factors set forth in the law."

Attacking the budget method of determining what should be a living wage, and supporting opinion says:

"That it would be wise and practical to undertake to establish an arbitrary standard living for several millions of persons is not apparent. That the desires and requirements of all men are equal and alike is not correct and that any committee of experts could set up an average living standard upon which a wage scale could be practically based has not been demonstrated anywhere."

"That standards of living are gradually improving in this country is undoubtedly true and this is as it should be. There is no member of the labor board who does not desire living wages for common labor."

Experts testifying for the Maintenance of Ways organization, added that "establishment of the living wage" would "throw a monkey wrench into industrial machinery and that the board therefore make only a start in that direction at present. The announcement said:

"Such a proposition is entirely illegal. If the living wage is the just and reasonable wage instituted by the administration it is the duty of the labor board to institute it now. If not the just and reasonable wage commanded by common law, then it is not the duty of the board to adopt it now or hereafter, unless the law be changed."

Family of Five Attacked

Adoption of a family of five with one wage earner as a basis for computing a living wage, also was attacked in the opinion which asserted that the last census showed there were 4.4 persons in the average family, but 1.04 dependent children instead of the three that experts before the board took as a basis and that there were 1.36 workers instead of one in the family.

Small Pill—Small Dose—Small Price

Commenting upon government ownership of the living wage principle were established the opinion said:
"Of course, for those who desire government ownership this would be a quick method of getting it, for it is a sure thing that the public would not stand for the imposition of higher rates to pay such a deficit." It asserted that in the last analysis the public would pay for the increased wages and that most of it would come from workers in the other industries.

Commenting on an article by William Randolph Hearst, included in Mr. Wharton's dissenting opinion, in which the statement was made that the unjustifiable lowering of the shopmen's wages caused the shopmen's strike, the supporting opinion declared that, such a statement was not important except insofar as it was adopted and endorsed by a member of the board.

"In the judgment of the majority of the board," the opinion continued, "and we believe, of a great majority of the people, the shopmen's strike was an egregious blunder without any real justification, and that it is said with the kindest feeling for the employees who have suffered most from its effects. It has wrought harm to all and good to none. It has burdened the railways with an unjust expense; has inflicted great losses upon the public especially the food producers, and has resulted in approximately $177,535,324 loss to the strikers."

Men Won Nothing

For all this the men, for strike have won nothing. They have gained no concessions as to any matter upon which they struck. For months the strike has been merely a struggle upon the part of the men to regain their position."

Contrasting the situation of the Maintenance of Way organization, which withheld its strike and appealed to the board, the opinion asserts the employees received about $147,636.82 in wages since July 1st, which would have been lost had they gone on strike, and in addition, have received an increase of wages of about $20,000,000 a year.

"Perhaps there is no better time and place," the opinion adds, "to emphasize the belief of a majority of the labor board that railway strikes are utterly useless and wasteful, and that the employees will always achieve better results at the hands of an impartial fairly constituted and representative of the people than they will by making war on the carriers and the public."

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, worry, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Miss Wise—I have been reading the letters published each day in the Morning Sun about how many nights a husband should be allowed to stay out after night and I would like to have your opinion on the subject. I feel sure you will have the right idea about the matter, or at least say a good word for the poor husbands who have been stung by getting henpecked wives. Dolly, our lives are miserable enough without adding fuel to the fire. Please help us out by telling us what you think.

JUST A HUSBAND.
There are husbands whose wives would not have them hanging around the house every night on a bet. There are others who have wives like Maggie Jiggs. I would hate to have a husband who could not think for himself. However, the question under discussion cannot be answered to suit all husbands. Circumstances alter cases, and, therefore, I would have to pass on each separately. It is absolutely necessary for some husbands to go out every night, or a part of each night. Others could not manufacture an excuse to get away, if their lives depended upon it. Still others might have to go out once or twice a week. There are club meetings and lodge meetings, or he may want an "off night" to just do as he pleases, which is as it should be. It isn't necessary for a man to bury himself after he gets married. He should take part in the civic affairs of the city, and be ready to do his bit in every movement for the betterment of the community, and he could not do this if he sat at home every night. Then, too, all work and no play, is not good for anyone, and if a husband did not do anything but eat, sleep and work, he would soon become a piece of worn-out machinery. He would also become so small and narrow that his family could not live with him. After all the question is one that should be settled by the husband and wife. When it is necessary for him to go out, he should go. His wife should do the same. When neither have a date with anyone else, they should go out together or spend the evening at home. If they will do this they won't have any occasion to quarrel about the matter, or ask the opinion of their neighbors or the general public.

Dear Miss Wise—I heard that there was a movement on foot to stop the fog rising on the Ohio river by means of oil. I think they plan to cover the surface with oil to prevent the fog rising. Don't you think this would make Portsmouth a healthier place to live if they accomplish this feat? I think the terrible fogs we have in this city and vicinity are the cause of half the sickness we have. I know I am troubled with catarrh and other kinds of hoarseness, which I know is partly due to foggy weather. What do you think about this, and when do you think they will begin to oil the river?

ANXIOUS READER.
The plan might work out all right on a small lake or river, but it would take too much oil to make a blanket of it over the Ohio river. It would run away as fast as they could pour it on. I believe the oiling was tried out on the Monongahela river recently with a definite degree of success. Stopping the fog on the river would not have any effect on the city and surrounding country. It would rise just the same.

Dear Miss Wise—In view of the many murders committed by women who shoot their husbands and other women's husbands, and then are allowed to go free, I would just like to suggest to the men of Portsmouth and elsewhere who are playing fast and loose with women of this type, that they had better watch their step as they never know when they start out with a woman like this whether they are coming back alive or not. When a bad woman gets a hold on a man, he is married or single, he will have to live the mark or else she will use him for target practice. I hope the men will take warning, as I would not like to hear of a scandal like this happening in our fair city. Just think of the disgrace such an act would bring upon the parties directly and indirectly mixed up in a scandal like this. Men, if you are tied to a brazen vampire, like the ones we have been reading in the papers from day to day, break loose from her, or she will "get you" sooner or later. Begin now and turn over a new leaf. What do you say, Dolly?

INTERESTED READER.
You said enough. If they will heed your advice, they won't get into trouble.
Dear Dolly—Is it true that Richard the Wizard is coming back to Portsmouth? If so, when and where will he be? Please answer as soon as possible.
WANT-TO-KNOW.
He will open an engagement at the Sun theatre on Wednesday of this week, and if you have anything to ask him, now is the time to do it. Don't wait until he has gone and then write me asking where you can locate him. Get your questions down, then call at the Sun theatre or write him personally. Don't send them to me, as I do not pose as a wizard.

Adventures Of The Twins

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

MARS was a queer place. There were no two people alike.
The Twins had seen and spoken to a square man made of stone and a queer, funny woman made of wood. And now what do you suppose? They saw a three-cornered boy. His head was three-cornered and his feet and hands and arms were three-cornered, and he was three-cornered all over.
"What are you that way for?" asked Nick.
"What way?" asked the boy. He threw away a three-cornered apple that he'd been eating and whistled a three-cornered tune and snuffed a three-cornered snuff.
"Why are you all corners and edges and sharp places?" said Nick, looking him over from hat to shoes—none too politely, I'm afraid.
"I don't know," answered the three-cornered boy, turning a three-cornered somersault. "What are you two people that way for?"
"What way?" asked Nancy in surprise.
"Oh, all round and curly and soft and lots of people on Mars—but none like you. Where do you live and what are you doing here, and why did you come and how do you like it and what are you after and when are you going home?"
"My—oh, my!" gasped Nick. "You can ask a lot of questions. But I'll answer as many of them as I can. We're Nancy and Nick, the Twins from the Earth, and we're hunting for Mother Goose's broom which was lost."
And she told him about it.
The three-cornered boy blinked his three-cornered eyes and shook his head. "Never heard of it," said he, moving away and breaking into a three-cornered run.

JACK DAW'S ADVENTURES

After an all-night sleep beside the treasure spot Jack rose with the sun and set to work again. He had been afraid to leave the place for fear someone would come and steal the hidden treasure while he was away.

Not long after he turned to digging again, Jack was surprised to see men and boys coming on the scene with shovels. "Looks like everybody was going to dig here," thought Jack. And he was not far wrong.

Soon the newcomers were hard at work. Jack surely had competition now, in his treasure hunt. The kind-hearted old officer who had tried to help him had unknowingly caused a lot of new trouble. Continued.

ADAMS COUNTY FARMER KILLED; NEIGHBOR IS ACCUSED

Fatal Affray Caused By Dispute Over A Roadway

WEST UNION, O., Oct. 30.—George Webb, 45, farmer, of near Seaman, Adams county, about 14 miles from West Union, was shot and instantly killed about seven o'clock this morning, and Robert Davis, 34, a neighbor, is in the county jail at West Union, charged with murder. It being alleged that he fired a charge from a single barrel shot-gun that killed Webb. The shooting is said to have been the result of a quarrel over the use of a roadway through a farm adjoining the Webb and Davis farms. Webb was unarmed.

The roadway where the shooting occurred is on the Thomas Blake farm which adjoins the Webb farm, about one and a half miles east of Seaman. Davis occupied a farm back of the other two and had to use the road through the Blake farm for entrance and exit, although the road is on Blake's land. The roadway is along a line fence of the Webb farm and Webb and Blake and other hands were busy sawing wood in the Blake timber. They were using a big cross-cut saw run by a small engine, the outfit being placed in the level roadway. Wood that was cut was then tossed over the fence onto the Webb land.

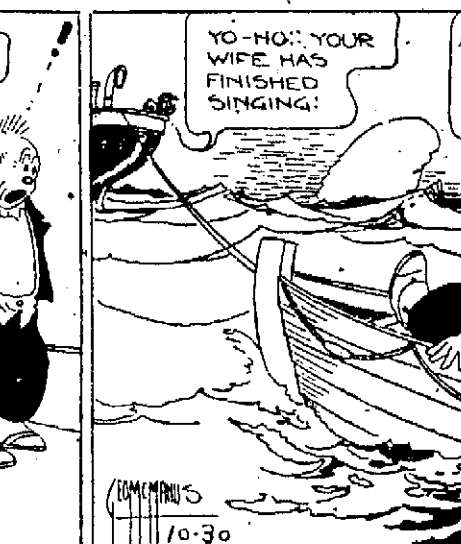

Saturday it is claimed Davis passed with a load of wood and drove around the saw but did not make any complaint. Sometime after the men quit work Saturday and this morning a sign had been placed on the sawing machinery. This sign read: "Move this saw. I am coming through again Monday."

The sign was found when the Webb and Blake men went to work this morning. They did not pay any attention to it but went ahead with their work. About seven o'clock Davis came along and getting down off his wagon load of wood approached the men working in the timber.

According to eye witnesses he called out to Webb, "Now you run." It is alleged that Webb did not move until Davis started towards him and that he was moving away when Davis leveled his shotgun and fired the full charge taking effect in the back of Webb's head and neck. The eye witnesses told Sheriff Pettit that the men were about forty feet apart and that very few words were exchanged. The men claim that Davis then turned the gun on them and ordered them to clear away the sawing machinery from the road so he could get through. They complied and after he passed gave their attention to Webb who died within a few seconds. Davis then continued on to Seaman with his load of wood and it was there that he was found by Sheriff Pettit and deputies several hours later. Davis had remarked that he would go to the county jail any time he was wanted, but Sheriff Pettit did not take any chances on the man getting away and went to Seaman after him. He is now in the West Union jail on a charge of murder.

The Blake, Webb and Davis families are well known in that section of Adams county. As far as Sheriff Pettit could learn Webb and Davis had been friends. Webb leaves a wife and two children while Davis has a wife and one child.

According to Sheriff Pettit, who questioned the men who were with Webb, Webb certainly did not anticipate any trouble for he was not armed and he probably did not know of the sign until this morning.

County Supt. McCowen Re-Elected For 3 Years

Superintendent E. O. McCowen, Prof. E. O. McCowen of Wheelersburg, County School Superintendent was re-elected for a term of three years at a meeting of the County Board of Education Saturday. Supt. McCowen's present contract will close July 31. His salary was fixed at $4500 per year, an increase of $300 over his present salary. The customary allowance of $300 for expenses was also allowed. The election came as a reward of merit.

A short time ago John S. Violet, president of the County Board and Ord Thompson, vice president, made a trip to Columbus and asked Honorable Vernon M. Hegel, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, his opinion of the ability and work of Supt. McCowen. The recommendation given by the State Superintendent was clear, definite and strong and they were told that no mistake would be made in securing his services again if it could be done. The constructive school program made and executed in Scioto County has far surpassed that of any other county in southern Ohio.

Local Man Badly Wounded; Taken To Hospital In Ashland, Ky.; Mystery Surrounds Shooting

ASHLAND, Ky., Oct. 30.—Ballard Adkins, 28, recently a resident of Portsmouth, Ohio, was brought to the King's Daughters Hospital here at six o'clock last night, horribly wounded from having stepped the contents of a gun loaded with buckshot and fired at close range. His right eye was destroyed and his body from the waist upward is peppered with buckshot. Unless complications develop it is believed he will recover.

Mystery surrounds the affair in which Adkins was shot. It is said to have taken place on Mud Fork of Whit Creek in Greenup county, several miles below Ashland.

Adkins has told the authorities here that he was shot by a man named Ward who lived in Ohio.

A second man who had been shot in the hand arrived at the hospital with Adkins, but after his wounds were dressed, he disappeared and at a late hour today the authorities had not learned his name.

Adkins' wife and baby and his father-in-law reached the hospital Sunday, in response to a telegram. They said he had left his home in Portsmouth two weeks ago, announcing that he was coming to Ashland to get work. The first news they received after his departure was the word that he had been shot.

An operation will be performed for the removal of the buckshot from Adkins' eye. Surgeons, however, say they have no hope of saving the sight.

BIG GAMES ON SATURDAY'S CARD

NEW YORK, October 30. (By the Associated Press).—Three inter-sectional contests on next Saturday's football schedule in the east promise to enliven a program which otherwise marks somewhat of a lull in preparation for the concluding big games of the season.

Harvard will engage Florida University in one of the inter-sectional clashes while the other members of the "big three" will face stiff tests, Yale playing Brown, while Princeton will oppose the sturdy Swarthmore eleven. The other inter-sectional game will bring Penn in combat with Alabama, while Syracuse faces the strong Nebraska eleven.

Cornell will battle Columbia at Ithaca; Colgate will play Lehigh on a neutral field at Johnson City, N. York, and the Polo Grounds will witness a clash between two aggregations of stalwarts, Lafayette and Washington and Jefferson. Neither team has met defeat since 1920.

Purdy Suit Is Settled Out Of Court

Settlement having been effected by the parties to two suits, one in Common Pleas court and the other in the United States District court at Cincinnati, of E. W. Purdy against the Norfolk and Western railway company, and Purdy Bros. against the same company, the actions have been dismissed.

On Dec. 21, 1920, the Purdy flour mill and Purdy's residence in Lucasville were totally destroyed by fire which started from sparks thrown by a passing locomotive. It was claimed, and the owners sued to recover their loss.

In the compromise effected through Attorney E. G. Miller and Henry T. Bannan the plaintiffs received $18,000 it is said.

Donahey Leads Pomerene

Donahey and Pomerene, Democratic candidates for governor and United States Senator, were the choice of a majority of voters of Portsmouth who participated in the poll conducted by the Cincinnati Enquirer.

Of the 530 straw ballots marked in this city for governor Donahey received 309 and Thompson, Republican, 221 a majority of 88 in favor of Donahey.

Music And Song

Since the earliest day, people in every condition or station in life, either youth or old age have had their hearts softened and their feelings altered by either music or song, more effectively perhaps by a combination of each.

Those of our citizens who have given attention to community interests have in mind the recent Pageant, proven so successful and entertaining due to the most wonderful music and song, still echoing in the minds of all, made possible by the Ladies' Musicale, to whom all credit for Portsmouth Pageant is due.

Subsequently the splendid, honor coming to Portsmouth folks through the talent and effort of this same musical organization in their recent engagement at an up-state city, brings to our attention more forcibly indeed the value of this very pleasing service to our community life, worthy the attention of all.

Encouraged by the expression of interest in previous endeavors, establishes the way marks leading on to more advanced and polished entertainments, one of which is in process now.

The Chamber of Commerce fully realizes the value of the service previously rendered our community by the Ladies' Musicale of this city and now seeks to encourage very liberal patronage on the part of our citizens in the purchase of tickets for this season's engagement, the first of which is dated Monday evening, next, to be followed from time to time, that the season may be closed in fitting honor to those so engaged and more than satisfying to the community at large.

Buy tickets now.
ADAM FRICK, President,
Chamber of Commerce.

THEATRICAL

It's Hallowe'en, So Beware of Witches

Ever see a witch? Ever see a picture of one? Uncanny looking, aren't they? Strange and ghostly stories have been told of witches and demons since the beginning of history. Fairy tales and nursery rhymes are full of witches, such as turning ragged little Cinderella into a beautiful Princess by a single wave of the mystic hand, and old Rip Van Winkle was made to sleep for twenty years. But strange as all these things may seem, still more strange are the amazing and wonderful performances given by the "Witches" and his big company, who open a four night's engagement at the Sun Theatre, starting Wednesday, Nov. 1st, presenting the highest class and most elaborately staged show of its kind during the American continent. The entire production is coming to this city intact, exactly as presented in every principle city in North America. It is not to be confused with a slight-of-hand show, but is a big, amazing production actually carrying a $70,000 longage, carload of special scenery, gorgeous costumes and effects, neatly blended with a most pleasing variety of clean comedy, new jangling music, thrills, suspense and novelties.

Dr. Spring Gives Interesting Lecture To Bible Students On "New World Begun"
The New World Beginning
A large audience gave close attention to the Bible lecture by Dr. W.
H. Spring in the Eastland theatre
Sunday evening. Dr. Spring talked for over an hour and keen interest was shown by his appreciative audience. The subject was "The New World Begun" and the text used as a basis for the lecture was Psalm 96:10. He said in part:
"Say among the nations that the Lord reigneth; the world also shall be established that it shall not be moved; he shall judge among the people righteously."—Psalm 96:10.
The whole world is now in a state of turmoil. During the past eight years the world has suffered from war, famine, pestilence, revolution and anarchy. From profiteers and from labor troubles. Statesmen are in perplexity, and the people are in distress. Profiteering and other unrighteousness have reached a high tide.
The social order is threatened with collapse. There must be a reason.
There is a reason, and the reason is this: (1) The King of Kings is here and has begun his reign; (2) the old world has ended, the new world is beginning and now must be established that it cannot be moved; and
(3) this new government founded upon righteousness will bring the desired righteousness will bring the desire of all nations. Hence millions now living will never die. These points we expect to prove in this lecture.
"The word 'world' does not mean earth, but means a social and political order of things. The first world, according to the Bible, began with Adam and ended with the flood. The second world immediately followed the deluge; and it must pass away to be followed by the new order, wherein dwelleth righteousness. The new world is the kingdom for which Jesus taught the disciples to pray.
"Thy kingdom come, thy will be done on earth as it is done in heaven."
Forty centuries ago the Lord made a promise to Abraham, saying, "In thy seed shall all the nations of the earth be blessed." Adam, the first man, created perfect, violated God's law and was sentenced to death, involving all his posterity. (Romans 5:12). God promised to redeem man and to give him an opportunity to obtain life eternal; and to this end he sent Jesus into the world that whoever believeth on him might not perish, but have everlasting life.
—John 3:16.

God's Typical Kingdom
God organized Israel into a nation.
He warned them to keep separate from other nations. Because of their disobedience God pronounced a decree against them, forewarning them of their national destruction. In the year 606 B. C. he enforced that decree, and permitted the gentiles to establish a universal empire. At that time he stated in substance that the gentiles might continue in power until he comes whose right it is, namely Christ Jesus; and that he would give him the kingdom. The Lord further stated that the period of the gentiles would be 2,

Bigelow Scouts Enjoy Hike

The Boy Scout troop No. 12 of Bigelow M. E. Church went on a hike Saturday to the sand bar along the Scioto river, where the Scouts pitched a tent and Jim Brannon was chosen as chef, to which he responded by cooking an appetizing dinner, but Bill Plummer being the biggest eater in the troop, was not satisfied, so he went to the store along the trail and bought a bag of crackers and a jar of dried beef. After the football team, captained by Sprague, defeated the team captained by Plummer to the tune of 16 to 19. A good time was enjoyed by all, and a hike is being planned for next Saturday, arrangements for which will appear in this paper at a later date.

The Boy Scout meeting scheduled for this evening has been postponed until Friday night on account of Halloween.

REVAMPED SMOKE HOUSE TEAM ROMPS OVER STRONG CHILlicothe ELEVEN; SCORE 44 TO 0

Local Team Shows Real Form Against The Visitors

Presenting a crippled lineup, the Smoky Brook eleven of Chillicothe fell easily before the perfect scoring may be put on the field yesterday by the Smoke House eleven of this city. The final score being 44 to 0. The result showed clearly what a well organized and practicing eleven can do with a captain and leader who is a real leader. The Smoke House team never appeared in better shape. Sam Ackroyd, a most likable fellow, is now captain and what he said yesterday was done, the result being that he led the team on to a glorious victory.

Although the visiting eleven was in a crippled condition they had a goal sized team and played a dandy game but they could not match with the teamwork displayed yesterday by the locals. It is a cinch that the locals could win the remainder of their games this season if they continue to show the same form they did yesterday. The big crowd of over 300 fans that filled the sidelines was profuse in their praise for the work of the team members. They played real football and the result was a sweeping victory.

Portsmouth kicked off, Ackroyd's toe sending the ball almost to the visitor's goal. The receiver was denied without much gain. Chillicothe could not gain and was forced to punt. On the first play Chabot hit the line for 12 yards. The line marched right on down the field. Doll and Montgomery hitting the line for big gains. Chabot added 25 yards when he received a forward pass. Chabot went through the line for a touchdown from the 7 yard line. Ackroyd failed to kick goal. When Ackroyd kicked off again the Smoky Brook receiver was downed on his 10 yard line. Chillicothe punted and gained 5 yards on the play for Portsmouth. Chillicothe punted and Taylor received and ran the ball back about 35 yards. A Chillicothe player stopped Taylor when he grabbed him by the head. The first quarter ended with Portsmouth completing a 20 yard pass. Montgomery reeled off a 20 yard run and Ackroyd kicked a touchdown from placement making the score 13 to 0.

SHERMAN TECH BEATS STROLLERS

The New Boston Strollers journeyed to Chillicothe Sunday and were beaten by the strong Sherman Tech team 12 to 6. One touchdown was fluky as it resulted from a blocked punt. The other was earned on straight football. The Strollers despite the fact they were greatly outweighed put up a real battle.

CORN, ALL-STATE H. S. END, INJURED IN FIRST GAME HIS MOTHER HAD SEEN

Joe Corn, right end on the Gallipolis High School football team, was chosen as an All State High School end last year. His mother had never seen him to a game, but came down Sunday to see him play against P. E. S. Of course, it had to be at her first game that he was injured. Corn was attended by Dr. Gilbert Mickelthwait, who found Corn suffered a broken collar bone.

Constable Frank Double, of the West Side, was badly beaten up in a row with Levi Culp.

Captain X. V. Evans sustained a broken arm and was otherwise painfully injured when he stumbled over a sewer covering on Gallia street.

Trying To

The letter said to be from Mr. Carleton, dated in California, August 25, says in part:

"I have been thinking a great deal lately that it is not fair that you should have any legal restraint upon you. . . . There is absolutely no chance for happiness for you as my wife. There are lots of good successful men who would make you happy. Probably you have met one or two. If this is so, I am mighty happy and will do all I can to fix things so that you can be free to marry."

Attached to this letter was one said to be in the handwriting of Rev. Christler. In part it says: "Am amazed at Frank's attitude. Why not be honest with ourselves. His beginning of honesty is to first pay the debt he contracted while you two were partners, then talk about a move to the next step, why back in such a manner what he owes your mother and elsewhere—the liabilities of both of you—and pack all the burdens of debt on your heart and shoulders."

"Anyhow, I want to see you clean the slate at Havre. Am coming to help."

HAVRE, Mont., Oct. 30.—(By The Associated Press)—That Mrs. Margaret Carleton deliberately attempted to win the Rev. Leonard J. Christler, rector of St. Mark's Episcopal church of this city from his wife and that failing she shot him and then herself was the belief expressed by Bishop Frederick Faber, head of the diocese of Montana, in a statement today, went said. Regarding the investigation I have made of the tragedy which occurred in the Christler home early Friday and after questioning those who knew about it, that if this woman had been able to work her will on Mr. Christler he would be alive today, unfaithful to his wife, but still living. The Bishop's statement said. Regarding the investigation of accusations involving the names of Mr. Christler and Mrs. Carleton, which he conducted a year and a half ago, Bishop Faber said:

"No formal charges ever were filed against Mr. Christler. Letters came to me containing statements detrimental to Mr. Christler's character. I came to Havre and insisted that the persons making the accusations present their testimony. When they learned that their evidence was to be taken down by a shorthand reporter, they would not testify."

"I set a second date for a hearing and later, when I could stay no longer in Havre for that purpose, the vestry of Mr. Christler's church fixed another date, but the testimony was never given."

"I found evidence which made me believe that the accusations were actuated by animosity."

Mr. Christler was a big man, physically and mentally, an outdoors man, and he did many things in novel and unusual ways. He had many activities for the benefit of his fellowmen which were outside ordinary church work and many people were to be found who were willing to find fault with him."

"The Unloved Wife" At The Sun Tonight

Those who still have faith in the theatre as a place where real art may be made a successful enterprise, will welcome the forthcoming engagement of "The Unloved Wife," a new play in three acts at the Sun theatre, commencing today with matinees daily, for ladies only, and it seems entirely possible that the rising generation may yet have the opportunity of becoming acquainted with the better forms of semi-classic dramatic works. It is a field that has been altogether neglected in recent years.

"The Unloved Wife" is an impressive, forcible story that will lighten the heart-strings and capture the imagination, yet built upon a happening in real life, a miraculous event that changed a woman's destiny. It is a play that bares a woman's soul, and is a fascinating story, depicting the sterling virtues and weaknesses of mankind. It abounds in thrills; is having in its revelations, startling in its intensity, and is presented by an excellent cast of players, who will give the fullest flavor to the lines and situations.

The evening performances are for everybody over sixteen years of age. Seat sale now on.

Woman Injured When Hit By Machine

Miss Jessie Steinhauser, 24, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. The accident occurred on Chillicothe street near the Stockham plant.

Miss Steinhauser was out riding with neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Banfield, of 1721 Grandview avenue. One tire was punctured when the machine reached a point near the Stockham plant and while Mr. Banfield was repairing the tire a friend came along and offered the women in the Banfield car the use of his machine until the tire was repaired. Miss Steinhauser and friends were getting out of the friend's machine after the puncture was repaired when a passing machine struck Miss Steinhauser who was standing by the running board. She was knocked down with considerable force but escaped with a severe bump on her head and multiple bruises about the body. Lynn's ambulance was called but when it was found that Miss Steinhauser was not seriously injured she was taken home in the Banfield automobile. Dr. T. G. McCormick attended her.

THE TARIFF AT THE BREAKFAST TABLE

ALL day long the new Republican Profiteers' Tariff dogs the consumer's steps to take a heavy toll on whatever he spends for necessities, luxuries, culture, amusement and even enlightenment for himself and his family. The persistence with which this insatiable Republican harpy pursues and robs the American consumer is accurately described by William O. Scroggs, a well known economist, in the following picturesque fashion:

"His day begins when he is aroused by an alarm clock, and the new tariff bill raises the duty on this article 67 per cent. His first act is to throw off the bed-covering, on which the duty has been increased 60 per cent. He jumps from his bed, on which the duty is advanced 133 per cent, and dons a summer bathrobe, with the duty up 60 per cent, and slippers, with the duty increased 33 per cent.

"He walks over a Brussels carpet (duty up 100 per cent) to close the windows, the duty on the pane of which has been raised 33 per cent and adjusts the shade (duty up 20 per cent) and curtains (up 50 per cent). Then he enters the bath room, stands before a mirror, on which the duty has been raised 100 per cent, sets out his shaving-stick, subject to an increase of 7 per cent, his shaving-brush (duty up 30 per cent), and razor (up 100 per cent), and begins his tonsorial operations. This over, he devotes his attention to the bath tub, on which the duty has been raised 100 per cent. Towels (with the duty up 60 per cent), soap (up 67 per cent), tooth-brush and hair brush (up 30 per cent, each), and comb (up 67 per cent) are next in demand.

"As our consumer dresses, it may be noted that the new bill increases the duty 60 per cent on his underwear, 33 per cent on his hose, 15 per cent on his shirt and collar, 20 per cent or more on his necktie, and 60 per cent on his suit of clothes.

"Our consumer decides to discard his waistcoat and transfers fountain-pen (up 100 per cent), penknife up 200 per cent), and lead pencil (up 80 per cent), from waistcoat to coat-pockets, picks a fresh linen handkerchief (up 30 per cent) from the dresser (up 133 per cent), polishes his eyeglasses (up 15 per cent), after giving his clothes a touch with a brush (up 57 per cent), is ready for breakfast.

"At the breakfast-table our consumer spreads a napkin (duty up 15 per cent) on his knees, and turns on the current for his electric toaster, on which the duty has been advanced 160 per cent. He drinks water from a glass, on which the duty is 45 per cent higher, and begins his breakfast with an apple (duty up 200 per cent) baked with sugar (duty up 84 per cent in an aluminum dish (up 150 per cent) on a cast-iron stove (duty up 100 per cent).

"The duty is also advanced 27 per cent on his chinaware, 20 per cent on his table silverware, 200 per cent on his oatmeal, and 225 per cent on his butter. The cream for his coffee has been removed from the free list and subjected to a duty of 22½ cents a gallon, and his eggs also have been taken from the free list and made dutiable at 8 cents per dozen. The salt for his eggs likewise comes off the free list, and so does his bacon and the flour that goes into his bread. Even the duty on the salt-shaker gets a boost of 45 per cent.

"The only things on his table that have not been subjected to a higher tariff duty are his coffee and his drinking water. It is his companion by day and his bedfellow at night.

FESS FAVORS SALES TAX

IN addition to the other burdens that have been shouldered onto the people by a Republican Congress, the G. O. P. candidate for United States Senator from Ohio, S. D. Fess, as a member of the lower House of Congress, was and still is in favor of a sales tax to bring in more money for the administration to spend and increase the burden imposed by the robber tariff, for which he voted, and which he seldom mentions now, although the administration refers to it as a "scientific tariff."

In a speech before the National Lumber Manufacturers' association in Chicago in April, 1920, Fess employed this language:

"I would suggest that if we have got to increase taxes that we take the sales tax plan."

In the House of Representatives, April 19, 1921, temporary record, page 394, Fess is quoted as having said:

"I would suggest the passage of a general sales tax for one year, writing that limitation in the law."

Reference to the report of the National Agricultural conference, held in Washington, D. C., January 23-27, 1922, page 141, will disclose the following recommendation relative to taxation:

"That we positively and earnestly protest against duty consumption, or sales or manufacturers' tax, or any other tax which shifts the burden onto those least able to pay, onto the necessities of life and has proved disappointing financially and unjust socially wherever tried."

If elected to the United States Senate, it is reasonable to believe that Fess will continue to urge a sales tax, even though he knows that it must be paid by the consumer and will still further enrich the big interests.

WELL, HERE'S LUCK ANYWAY

WE see where Colonel Thompson is going to have a "Home Coming" at Ironton next Friday night.

Well, here's luck. But we hope the Colonel's reception will be a wee bit warmer than it was that time they opened their new bridge and had a celebration. For the gallant Colonel looked and acted like a fish out of water. He wasn't noticed by "nobody and no one." He was allowed to walk on the bridge, but they did not permit him to make a speech at the afternoon opening, he did not get a bid to Chairman "Boss" Johnson's private feed for the notables gathered there, and he was not permitted to speak at the evening banquet, was not even mentioned. What was the matter with Colonel Thompson at his great home town celebration, the most important in its history?

Surely they were not still remembering that famous charge of the gallant Colonel on the Hanging Rock Iron Furnace strikers where the net casualties were one perfectly harmless cow killed.

Figures don't lie, but fellows that use figures will, let us be charitable and say, ignorantly and innocently. The G. O. P. organs are heaping that the Harding administration's famous budget system saved the government three hundred and fifty million dollars. So it did, on estimates of what the departments asked, but many a red in fact for the raw truth is that the expenses of the government for this year are nine hundred million dollars more than congress appropriated. A mere "bag o' shells," just nine dollars for every one of the governed.

THE BIGGEST BUNKO GAME

THE biggest bunko game ever put over on the people of Ohio was the special session of the legislature called by Governor Davis and the so-called coal price regulation passed by it at the behest of the governor. The people looked for relief and coal. They have gotten neither. Coal is harder to get now than it was prior to Davis' grand stand play, and the prices are higher now than they were then, thanks to Mr. Davis' price regulations. But—why should the dear fellows who pay the bills worry? Has not one of Governor Davis' buddies from Cleveland gotten a six thousand dollars a year job as Coal Administrator? And has not a whole horde of office holders been added to the state pay roll?

And is not Carmi Thompson, republican candidate for governor delighted? If not he should be. For he, himself is a coal stock owner. And when he was campaigning for the republican nomination for governor did not the very rich and very arrogant coal operators and steel-magnates finance his campaign? The Lord only knows just now, outside of Thompson, what they are giving to his campaign for election, but maybe a part of it will come out in the statements to be filed by the campaign committees.

Anyway Colonel Thompson has endorsed Governor Davis. And Colonel Thompson is the "Buddy" of the millionaire coal operators and millionaire labor crushers of the state and nation. So we have no doubt, not the slightest doubt, that there will be great rejoicing and much toasting along millionaire row should the unforeseen happen and Colonel Thompson be elected governor of Ohio next week.

For like the good old days when Mark Hanna ruled, when the man who works on his little farm, at his daily job, who forms the bulwark of the nation, will get the "soft soap" and the capitalists will gather in the mazuma, will return to us again in Ohio.

Do not forget this prediction, you fellows, and you women, who have to work for your living, when you cast your ballots next week.

JUST THINK IT OVER

THE republican family office holding gang is much worried these days, if we are told correctly, at the idea of common working people owning automobiles. They were shocked when several hundred Norfolk & Western men, striking against reduction in wages, were seen about the car shops in automobiles. Why should such people have automobiles, they are asking. Strange is it not, in this automobile age? Probably in these days of Harding prosperity many working-men have had to sacrifice their automobiles. We are sorry. For the automobile means much to each and every one of us. Last Saturday afternoon we took a little drive in our machine. We went out the Duck Run pike, over Bloody Run hill, into Otway, and from there home via the Galena Pike. We had had rather a tiresome week. But this wonderful ride, this glimpse of nature at its wildest, and at the same time in its most magnificent glory, repaid us for all the vexations of the week. And as we came into Portsmouth over that grand old bridge that spans the Scioto, we remarked, "Heavens, if only every person in Portsmouth owned a machine and could take this ride, what a wonderful thing it would be, what a wonderful conception they would get of the Creator and nature that represents His works!"

And this Sunday evening as we sit down here in The Times office writing this, the thought comes to us that the men and women who do the voting, so often, yes the majority of times, do not exercise their voting privileges in their own interests. The fellows who want to exploit them, the fellows who want to lower wages, the fellows who want high tariffs on their products, the fellows who want to smash all the labor unions, they know what they want and they vote that way.

We want you men and your wives to sit down tonight and talk this thing over. Forget your hide-bound partisanship. Forget everything but the fact that you are American citizens, and then vote for the men and for the principles that will best represent you and yours.

HE SERVED IN HONOR

WE might our pen lose such gift as it may have did it not turn quickly to tribute of one, who as an official and a man, ever so modestly, but, nevertheless, staunchly and honorably took his place as a worthy citizen.

For eight years have we been in daily contact with Assistant Postmaster David E. Thomas. Unqualifiedly and without reservation whatsoever, we aver he represented the highest quality of public service. He was efficient, most unusually so, in the discharge of his public duties. But he went further than that. He took no measure of the value of the service he was to render, nor of what he was compensated therefore, he simply gave tirelessly all the work, all the time, that his position, carried to its highest results, required. The needs and the interests of the government were more to him than his own and with keen and vigilant diligence he gave all his talent to its concerns. Dave Thomas' heart was big and he had a sympathy as keen and sweet as that of a woman.

But the superb thing in him, to us, was his loyalty. To his friends he was staunch and true and to have known that loyalty, to have received its honor without stint, to feel that in some degree we must have earned it, is the finest glory of our life.

They tell us he knew the end was at hand and he faced the Unconquerable Enemy as a brave man and a Christian should. We are proud of that.

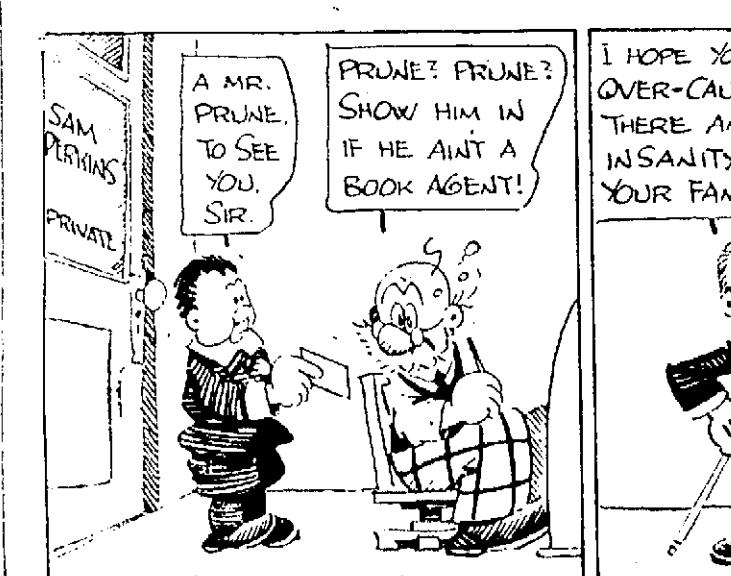

May the soul of Dear Old Dave rest in peace.

Two years ago certain Republicans were throwing all sorts of fits because Wilson had declared he wanted a Democratic congress elected. Today, Harding has every one of his cabinet members, except one who runs his own department in his own way, talking to the voters about the achievements of his administration. "Achievements." Bah! And Bah! again. Don't you like him best who comes out straight and asks like a brave man for what he wants rather than he who comes hinting around?

Aside from any generous boost of salaries it hasn't been mentioned as yet that the county engineer's office is swarming with deputies and rod carriers that didn't use to be. It's the same way all over the court house.

On 134 roll calls, out of a total of 280, during the sessions of the present session, Congressman Kearns was recorded as absent and not voting—all occasions, doubtless, where he was not required to follow the party leaders.

POLLY AND HER PALS

UNANIMOUSLY ADMITTED

HARRY L. DAVIS, to whom the G. O. P. denied the dubious honor of being nominated for a second term, told a bunch of voters that "a substantial and immediate reduction of taxation will, at the end of my administration, be warranted by the accomplishments thereof."

There'll be none to dispute that happy consummation with him.

The sad point about it is that the voters suffered themselves to be deceived into giving him even so much as one term of two years. That's only a brief spell, as time is ordinarily counted, but it was amply sufficient for the busy Davis administration to work off some mighty accomplishments. For instance to raise the state tax rate one thousand per cent and spend eighteen million dollars more in one year than had ever been spent before.

To be sure a substantial and immediate reduction in taxation will be due after the first day of next January, and Vic Donahey is just about the lad to see the people get that much and a little more as a New Year gift.

WORSE AND MORE OF IT

CONGRESSMAN KEARNS fought improvement of the Ohio river, because, as he explained, the Republican party leaders were against it and he always followed the leaders.

An elegant explanation. It is the same, doubtless, he will offer when chided for voting for a thirty dollar per ton duty on fertilizer, he always follows the party leaders.

Nine-tenths of the voters in Kearns' district move and have their being by themselves, or some one near them following the plow. The man that follows the plow isn't particularly interested in party leaders, but he is deeply concerned about the cost of fertilizer. He can't now pay for all he would like to buy and that his land really needs.

But what does Kearns care for that—he just makes the tribute from his constituents a little heavier by following the party leaders and voting as the fertilizer trust would have him vote.

Studying the matter a bit further it looks as though he had handed the men who have been in the habit of voting for him a double dose. He votes for more duty on the fertilizer that would make the fields grow more corn and grass to feed the cattle and then turns right around and votes no duty, no protection at all for the farmer, on hides—still following the party leaders, it is to be supposed.

New York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, October 30.—A page from the diary of a modern Samuel Pepys: Up bedtimes and a chill robust morning. My tailor telephoned to say my coat fitted badly, having seen it from an omnibus and bade me come to him, which I deemed a servicable courtesy.

Out to buy some trifles and to greet my wife at the train and glad to see her, too. So to Sherry's for lunch and Gilbert Miller, the theatre man, there and I did some tricks with matches, a low-brow girl. Saw too Lord Mountbatten and his lady.

"It came upon me today to visit the museum and a good time too gazing at the work of the old masters albeit I am dumb about the finer points. Then-after by coach down the avenue.

In the evening to dinner with R. Long and A. Dwan at a Beefsteak place and afterward to walk far up upper Broadway looking in the shop windows and much quipping and quirkling. Home to read awhile from the encyclopedia. And so to bed.

Each afternoon a picturesque Scotswoman in kilts swings his way up Fifth avenue. Women turn to follow him with their gaze out of sight. The kilts is Soumas, Chief of the Clan Fhearghais. He is in America on a prolonged visit and spends his time studying the avenues and streets. His home is at the Explorers' Club—a club, by the way, that is one of the most interesting in New York.

Every night there is a hardy group of adventurers in the lounge—men who have braved the African jungle and the polar night—and it is among their own only will they spin tales of their adventures.

A chorus girl in a musical show missed a matinee and received her notices. She called up the stage director to know the why of it.

"You are using this show as a convenience," he declared.

"That's a laugh," she said. "What else do you suppose I'm using it for? It is the only way a poor working girl can grab a millionaire."

The upper West Side apartment house districts are manned almost exclusively by West Indian employees. Owners say they are almost perfect in their labors but they cannot keep them the year around. When the first snow flies they leave just as ants leave a sinking ship and scurry down to Florida. No indolence is strong enough for them to brave the rigors of a New York winter.

There is a chubby little theatrical producer who is a devotee of boxing. He swines a wicked fist. In one of his revues he was watching two comedians burlesque a fist-fight. He protested that they were not doing it right and got a pair of boxing gloves and went up on the stage.

Our Complaints

We cry and fret about the heated weather Of July and August, when we're together, And stamp and snort again in February.

When a cold snap makes one feel contrary.

Yet if we would try to make the best of things.

Remembering that the lovely spring-time brings

Beauty and fragrance from the melting soil,

That seems reward enough for all who toil

Through a few months that are sultry or dreary.

Let's be thankful—and try to be cheery.

'Tis certain, that joys will then gather about

The ones who are striving to blot dull care out.

Good will toward your neighbor brings good will to you,

And fills days with sunshine, and happiness, too.

—Miss Harriet R. Hunter.

Hi and Sim

Hi Larity: "Sim, how do you account for the fact that you are such a bright fellow?" Is it simply because you have a college education or are you naturally more intelligent than ordinary men?"

Sim Flicity: "Well, Hi, the only reason I can think of is that I must have inherited my brightness from my father; you remember, do you not, that he had Bright's disease?"

Color No Object

WANTED.—Girl for light house work, no washing. No objection to green or colored girl.—Classified Ad. in the Hartford Times.

Canned Tongue

"Do you know why we call our language the Mother Tongue?" "Because Father never gets a chance to use it."—Sondars Nisse (Stockholm).

IF YOU ARE WELL-BRED

YOU never wipe bands that have fruit juice on them on a napkin before you have rinsed them in a finger bowl. To do so leaves an indelible stain which the hostess who prides herself on her linen abhors.

All juicy or sticky foods should be eaten with a fork. The reason for this is that the sight of a person covering his face with whipped cream as he eats a cream puff by hand, or dripping with juice as he sucks his peach, is not a pleasing sight.

The Main Bearing
"Are you sure you have shown me all the principal parts of this car?" asked the fair prospective purchaser. "Yes, madam, all the main ones," replied the dealer.
"Well, then, where is the depreciation?" Tom told me that was one of the biggest things about a car.—The Argonaut (San Francisco).
